Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 29.—Principal Tobey of Wausau, chairman of the county school inquiry committee, sums up as follows in his report today: Wisconsin will get what she pays for. If the state pays less for skilled labor of the very highest grade than private individuals offer for common labor she will not get what she asks for. That she does not get what she should have is attested by every county superintendent in the state.
In the morning session the teachers passed a resolution which opposed the Roosevelt Target Practice method of spelling, but voted for a simplified method being incorporated. The new state President, Jackson, offered a suggestion that President Roosevelt recommend to the ways and

ROMANTIC INTRODUCTION ENDED IN WEDDING TODAY

Accomplished Daughter Of American Millionaire Bride Of French Nobleman
At Providence, R. I.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Providence, R. I., Dec. 29.—The wedding here today of Miss Madeline Lves Goddard and the Marquis d'Andigne of France added another to the list of American heiresses who have married foreign titles. The bride is the daughter of Col. Robert H. Goddard, a millionaire and a candidate for the seat of George F. Westmore in the United States senate. The wedding took place at the Goddards' city home, Hopetown House. Owing to the fact that the Marquis d'Andigne is in mourning for the death of one of his relatives only the members of the two families and a few intimate friends were invited. The first meeting of the bride and groom of today was of a most romantic character. Almost a year ago, while touring in an automobile in southern France, Miss Goddard met, and by accident, Marquis d'Andigne. Miss Goddard stopped to inspect some picturesque ruins of a castle and met an affable gentleman, who was studiously polite in his endeavors to point out the spots of interest. The romance began there and then, which resulted in the announcement that Miss Goddard was to wed a citizen of France. There were the usual denials of truth of the assertion incident to matches made abroad, but last September it was officially announced that Marquis Rene d'Andigne and Miss Goddard had been formally betrothed in the marquis's family home. The bride, though she has spent much of her life abroad, is well known socially in New York and Newport. Excessively studious, she was in early life an accomplished French scholar and a promising musician. When golfing became popular among women a few years ago, she was among the experts of the Agawam court, and became the champion of the state, but beyond this she did not take much to athletics. She studied the violin under Joachim, the famous virtuoso. She travelled abroad extensively and on one visit successfully took an examination for entrance to Oxford, but was persuaded not to matriculate. The Marquis d'Andigne belongs to one of the most ancient and illustrious houses of the nobility of Anjou, which figured in the crusades among the followers of that king of France known as St. Louis. At the beginning of the last century the Andignes were at the head of general Marquis d'Andigne, who achieved so much distinction on the battlefields of Solferino and Sedan, having a horse killed beneath him in the heroic charge of Reichshofen. The Andignes, whose ancestral castle is at Monet, are ardent legitimists and are persistently declined to recognize or admit the pretensions either of the late Count of Paris or of his son, the Duke of Orleans, to the chieftainship of the royalist party in France. Marquis Rene d'Andigne is approaching middle life, has a slight physique and a typical French face. He was born in London while his father was attached to the French embassy. Unlike his father he is deeply interested in agricultural pursuits and the raising of thoroughbred stock, being described as a good specimen of the French "gentilhomme compaignon."

COUNCIL MEETING

IS DULL AND DRY

NO FIVE DOLLARS FOR THE MEMBERS AS YET.

ROUTINE BUSINESS DONE

"Bun Wagon" is to be Removed From the Corn Exchange Because of Small.

Little business of any importance was accomplished by last night's adjourned meeting of the common council beyond the failure to pass upon the legal opinion of Mr. G. Jeffris regarding the legality of the hold over aldermen receiving five dollars for each meeting as do the junior members of the council. The repeal of the Sunday theatre closing ordinance was not brought up in the council meeting proper although it may have been taken up in the secret committee meetings which occupied an hour of the evening's program.

With all the aldermen present but Brockhaus and Hager, Mayor Hutchinson rapped to order shortly after eight. The minutes were read and the resignation of Jesse Earle as justice of the peace was read and accepted. While this makes a vacancy in the list of justices it is not probable that a special election will be called to fill the vacancy. Numerous measures were introduced and referred to various committees who then took a recess to consider matters of importance consuming nearly an hour in this business.

The opinion of Mr. G. Jeffris in which he stated that in his opinion the five newly elected aldermen were entitled to their $5 a meeting was presented in the committee meeting. This brief was considered by the committee but City Attorney Maxfield asked that further time be given him to look the matter up more thoroughly before going on record as approving Mr. Jeffris' opinion. For this reason no action was taken on this question last evening. On motion of Alderman Connell the treasurer's report for December and the usual salary list was adopted. The city clerk was also directed to pay over to the county the sum of $2650 being the amount due on the saloon licenses. It was also decided that in the future all city bonds should be in the kind known as coupon bonds. The judiciary committee reported unfavorably on the claim of John and William Brown for damages against the city for flooding their land out on Washington street and further time was asked on the Knerr injury claim.

Alderman Sheridan moved that the report of the assessment committee with regard to the Forest Park sewers be adopted and that the city clerk be instructed to pay the contractors and assess the property owners benefited by the sewer. The sum of $4,32.07 was ordered to be paid to the contractors Harding and Nelson for sewer work in districts six, ten and eleven. Mr. J. Benson was allowed $40.75 for crushed stone furnished to the city. The report of Street Commissioner James Sennett on brick and gutter plates used in the city was read and adopted and the necessary money ordered to be taken from the various ward funds to pay for the same. On motion of Alderman Sheridan the $27.62 was allowed to contractor James Ryan for grading work done in Forest Park streets.

The petition of Mrs. Edna Dick for the vacation of Helen, Harriett and May streets in Smith's Park View addition was read and it was moved to post the notice of vacation for the proper time before final action.

On motion of Alderman Watt it was voted that the electric light at the corner of Jefferson and Oakland Aves. be moved to the corner of Jackson street and Garfield avenue.

Alderman Fish moved that the "bun" wagon on the Corn Exchange be taken away and that the city marshal see that it be taken away.

At the close of the session Mayor Hutchinson briefly thanked the council in behalf of himself, his sister and brother for the beautiful floral tribute sent in loving remembrance of his father, the late Stockley Hutchinson.

Robbing Yourself

That is just what you are doing when you fail to get regular and sufficient sleep. Your body requires this unconscious period for repair work; without it your nerve energy becomes exhausted, and you are tired, worn-out, nervous, excitable; have headache, neuralgia, indigestion, poor appetite, or other ailments caused by a lack of nerve force. Make it your business to sleep. If you are restless, take Dr. Miles' Nervine; it soothes and strengthens the nerves, and brings sweet, refreshing, life-giving sleep, and gives the organs power to work naturally. Try it to-day.

"I had a severe spell of fever, which left me in a very weak condition and very nervous. I had severe spells of headache and neuralgia, and could sleep but very little. Every time that I was made to recover my strength, I was on the verge of falling back. I commenced to take the Nervine my sleep was profound and restful, and the pains in my head and back as well as the nervous pains, left me to a certain extent and I grew gradually better."

Mrs. B. B. GILCHRIST, 811 Berkeley Ave., Evanston, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

WILL NOT MEET THE

ST. LOUIS TEAM NOW

University Does Not Approve of the Proposed Contest With Missouri.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Dec. 28.—Wisconsin will not be represented in the big intercollegiate indoor athletic meet planned by Coach E. B. Coehms of the St. Louis university for the latter part of February. There are two reasons why the budget faculty is opposed to accepting the invitation of Mr. Coehms. One is the opposition of Professor Hutchins to indoor athletic contests. He believes that the training of a team for outdoor work is not helped by strenuous work that is necessary for preparation for intercollegiate contests in the winter time. The athletes need months of preliminary work, he says, to build them up and enable them to stand the strain of competition. The other reason is that the budget faculty holds Coehms in low esteem. He is a Wisconsin athlete, formerly a star end, and halfback on the best badger eleven, then assistant coach of the football team under the graduate system, and consequently it is natural that he should not be esteemed highly by the faculty, for he was moved for leadership in the days when it was said that football players here worked on salaries and fellows of no standing as students were "attracted" for football purposes only. In fact it is said here that of the eleven players on Coehms' team this last season, three were refused admittance to the University of Wisconsin when they were brought to this school for football work rather than for learning, and three got in but did not scholastic work and quietly dropped out as soon as the football season closed. Mr. Coehms has been spending the holidays with relatives. He does not claim that standards are as high at St. Louis as at reformed Wisconsin, but he declares that he developed a football team that could beat the wadding out of any team in the country. He says the only team that would show well against St. Louis was Chicago, Wisconsin, he says, is a "bunch of boucheads." He declares that the essential thing in the new game of football is the forward pass, but it must be made for thirty, forty, fifty and sixty yards, as far as the ordinary kick. He returns to St. Louis to put his athletes in training this winter to develop their ability to pass the football. He says basketball is the best game now played for supplementary training for football.

Wisconsin will play Columbia at basketball here next Thursday. It will be a hard game and Columbia is said to have some advantage in personnel of team, but Wisconsin hopes this will be overcome in the advantage of home floor and baskets.

Professor C. P. Hutchins has been spending the holiday vacation in Philadelphia and will bring to Madison with him the new crew coach, James Ten Eyck, who will immediately take charge of the candidates for the freshman and varsity boats. As soon as the students return from the holidays at their homes they will be systematically canvassed for subscriptions for the support of the aquatic department. It is expected that they will be "finch" with money after "flocking up" the folks at home.

Captain Ridgway will have charge of the truck work for a time, but will be assisted by Professor Hutchins. Hundreds of students are to be worked in the truck department and a number of truck athletes of established ability will take charge of squads of beginners. The elimination of intercollegiate contests in the winter time, according to the policy of Dr. Hutchins, has been a disappointment to some athletes who hoped to get some enjoyable journeys to other university cities for indoor meets, but this is not at all serious.

The baseball chances at Wisconsin are said to be bright. Dr. Hutchins will get the candidates out right away the coming week and will systematize the training so that the case will be used all day and will not be congested for a few hours in the afternoon. He will personally coach the track team, but will devote himself principally to the local candidates.

The formation of a professional baseball team in Madison, with a charter in the Wisconsin State League is an opportunity for good practical games for the university nine in the early spring. The Madison league club is proving attractive to players, a number of good ones having already written Manager Cassione for opportunities to sign. A try-out session will be held in the spring, when some thirty candidates will be brought here for practical inspection before the personnel of the team will be determined upon.

Sergeant Clarence Peterson of Milwaukee reopened the United States army recruiting station at the Hotel Empire today. There has been no office here for several months past and a goodly number of enlistments for the various branches of the service are expected. Sergeant Peterson will not work entirely in the city of Janesville but draw on the surrounding country and nearby cities and villages.

Charcoal Kills

Bad Breath.

Disagreeable Odor Arising from Indigestion or From Any Habit or Indulgence, Can Be Instantly Stopped.

Sample Package Mailed Free.

Other people notice your bad breath where you would not notice it at all. It is nauseating to other people to stand before them and while you are talking, give them a whiff or two of your bad breath. It usually comes from food fermenting on your stomach. Sometimes you have it in the morning—that awful sour, bilious, bad breath. You can stop that at once by swallowing one or two Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful gas and odor absorber ever prepared.

Sometimes your meals will reveal themselves in your breath to those who talk with you. "You've had onions," or "You've been eating cabbage," and all of a sudden you're belch in the face of your friend. Charcoal is a wonderful absorber of odors, as every one knows. That is why Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are so quick to stop all gases and odors of odorous foods, or gas from indigestion.

Don't use breath perfumes. They never conceal that odor, and never absorb the gas that causes the odor. Besides, the very fact of using them reveals the reason for their use. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges in the first place stop for good all sour brash and belching of gas, and make your breath pure, fresh and sweet, just after you've eaten. Then no one will turn his face away from you when you breathe or talk; your breath will be pure and fresh, and besides your food will taste so much better to you at your next meal. Just try it.

Charcoal does other wonderful things, too. It carries away from your stomach and intestines, all the impurities there massed together and which causes the bad breath. Charcoal is a purifier as well as an absorber.

Charcoal is now by far the best, most easy and mild laxative known. A whole boxful will do no harm; in fact, the more you take the better. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal and mixed with just a faint flavor of honey to make them palatable for you, but not too sweet. You just chew them like candy. They are absolutely harmless.

Get a now, pure, sweet breath, fresh on your stomach for your next meal, and keep the intestines in good working order. These two things are the secret of good health and long life. You can get all the charcoal necessary to do these wonderful but simple things by getting Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. We want you to test these wonderful works on yourself before you buy them. So send us your full name and address for a free sample of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. Then after you have tried the sample, and been convinced, go to your druggist and get a 25c box of them. You'll feel better all over, more comfortable, and "cleaner" inside.

Send us your name and address to-day and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 60 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ARM CRUSHED AS HE

REACHED FOR STALK

William Maize, Meets With Severe Accident on the William Terwilliger Farm.

Will Maize, who lives with his uncle near Clinton, suffered a severe accident this week while working with a gang on a corn shredder on Jerome Terwilliger's farm. Maize was carrying corn and not employed on the shredder itself. He had got in under the operating platform of the machine to play a joke on one of the men and seeing a corn stalk caught in the husking rollers, attempted to free it. His mitten became entangled in the machinery and his arm drawn in up to the elbow, crushing the bones horribly. The injured man was taken to the Terwilliger home and cared for until he was able to be moved. It was due to Mr. Terwilliger's promptness in shutting off the steam that the young man got off with no more serious injury than he did. Maize, who is about twenty, came over from England last year.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Cloudy with rain or snow in southern portion tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight in southern portion, colder Sunday in northern portion.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

"There is nothing more depressing than dwelling upon lost opportunities or a misspent life. Whatever your past has been, forget it. If it throws a shadow upon the present, or causes melancholy or despondency, there is nothing in it which helps you, there is not a single reason why you should retain it in your memory and there are a thousand reasons why you should bury it so deeply that it can never be resurrected.

"The future is your uncut block of marble. Beware how you smite it. Don't touch it without a program. Don't strike a blow with your chisel without a model, lest you ruin and mar forever the angel which lives within the block; but the past marble, which you have carved into hideous images, which have warped and twisted the ideals of your youth, and caused you infinite pain need not ruin or mar the uncut block before you. This is one of the merciful provisions that every day presents to every human being, no matter how unfortunate his past, a new uncut block of pure Parian marble, so that every day every human being has a new chance to retrieve the past, to improve upon it if he will.

"Nothing is more foolish, more positively wicked than to drag the skeletons of the past, the hideous images, the foolish deeds, the unfortunate experiences of the past into today's work to mar and spoil it. There are plenty of people who have been failures up to the present moment who could do wonders in the future if they could only forget the past, if they only had the ability to cut it off, to close the door on it forever and start anew."

When O. S. Marden penned the sentiment so well expressed for the January number of "Success," he evidently had in mind the closing of the year, and was prompted by a desire to inspire hope and courage for the opening of the new year, so close at hand.

It is said of life, at its meridian, that three influences enter into it, and control to greater or less extent. These influences are inspired by three periods of time, known as the past, present and future, and when the life is well balanced none of them are ignored.

The lessons of life, when properly analyzed and appreciated, come from experiences of the past, and it is never wise to slight them. The mistakes, the sins, and errors of judgment, are matters of record, and while they should be carefully hid away, as the skeleton in the closet, yet no thoughtful mind cares to repeat them.

The hopes and plans of life always stretch away toward the future, and with all its uncertainty, it is ever an attractive goal. The seasons come and go, with monotonous regularity, and the laws of nature are fixed and immovable, but circumstances and environment are constantly shifting, and the outlook ever changing.

Between those two extremes, so remote, and yet so near, is the present, the now, where the conflict is on, and where victory or defeat are of daily record.

The Master reminded His disciples, a long time ago, that it was not necessary to wait for the harvest, but if they would look out on the fields, they would find them already white and waiting for the gleaners.

So the present has ever been the time of absorbing interest, and never more so than in the busy activities of today. A clean and wholesome past, reinforced by a bright and hopeful future, is a benediction to any life, but the demands of the hour command first attention, and this fact is so generally recognized that the world's great workshop is a busy hive of industry, inspired by energy, and controlled, to large extent, by the mainspring of contentment.

These conditions prevail where life is normal, and at its best, but there are more abnormal people, in the world today, than at any time in history, and Mr. Marden had in mind, one class of this kind, when he wrote,

It is an old saying, that every home has its skeleton, and it can be said that every life, developed to the stage of maturity, harbors a ghost in the closet. It is also true that these derelicts and phantoms absorb the time and attention, of some people, so completely, that energy is exhausted, and the opportunities of life, as well as its everyday work, neglected.

To bury our dead out of sight is following a custom which has long prevailed, and the days of mourning depend upon the depth of the wound from which the heart has suffered, but the mummy in the casket, or the ashes in the receptacle, contribute nothing to the halo of sacred memory.

The city of the dead is a sacred municipality, and it is well to adorn it with shrubs and flowering plants, but it was never intended for the habitation of the living. Its inhabitants belong to the past, and all that is mortal is buried out of sight, while the jewels are transferred to the future, and to the life where hope centers, beyond the vale.

There is another graveyard, not so seemingly, where wreckage and blighted ambitions abound, and where the atmosphere is gruesome and unhealthy. A spot to be avoided, and yet some people live in it, and imbibe the air so freely that life becomes morbid and unwholesome. Much of every man's past should be buried so deeply, as to be entirely forgotten.

The weakness of the present age is not so much living in the past, as speculating on the future. While the pace is rapid it is not fast enough to satisfy ambition, and an army of restless people invest recklessly in all sorts of visionary schemes with the hope of securing something for little or nothing.

The slow process of everyday accumulation becomes monotonous and the glittering prospect of reward without effort dazzles, and proves an alluring charm.

There has been money enough lost in fake mining, and other schemes of this sort, during the past few years, to give every investor a comfortable home or substantial competency. Investing in futures is largely a gamble, whether the field of operation be Wall street, or a hole in the ground in a mining camp. The former has less prolonged.

The present after all is the best time to live, and the panorama of today changes so rapidly that it should satisfy the most critical.

Success means vastly more than acquiring a fortune. The most miserable men in the world today are the old men, tottering on the edge of time, with large money interests not transferable to the world beyond.

They realize that the prospective inheritors, waiting impatiently for them to go, will scatter the precious treasure to the four winds, in a decade, and this contributes to the misery.

Success lies in the pathway of every calling and is within easy grasp. It means accomplishment of the highest order, without reference to time or place. It means loyalty to self and every interest involved.

Life is full of successful people. Like honest people, they represent the great majority. The men who own Rockefeller his great wealth, are not numerous; they couldn't handle it for a moment, if they had it, and they know it. The most of them would be satisfied with a modest place on his pay-roll, and this they might not be able to fill successfully.

Success is found in filling full the niche where the lot of life is cast, after making sure that the right niche is occupied, and failure comes from trying to fill some other man's niche, or drifting about aimlessly in the open.

Cut loose from the past, cultivate a hopeful outlook, but live by the day, and when the last sun goes down, some one will be found to say, "Well done."

The Brownsville investigation is likely to monopolize the time in congress, and but little will be accomplished in the way of legislation. The action of the President is regarded as premature by many people, and he is being freely criticised for not holding the officers of the colored battalion responsible. What the outcome will be is difficult to determine.

AMERICANS MARRIED IN JAPAN CAPITAL

Hallie Erminie Rives Bride of Post Wheeler, Second Secretary to a United States Embassy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Tokio, Dec. 29.—At the American embassy today Miss Hallie Erminie Rives, the well known writer, was married to Mr. Post Wheeler, second secretary to the embassy. The ceremony was performed at noon and was witnessed by the American ambassador and Mrs. Wright, the embassy staff and many prominent members of the American colony in Tokyo. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are to sail immediately for America and intend to spend the remainder of the winter and early spring at Ocean Grove, N. J.

Known in Washington Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—News from Tokio of the wedding there today of Miss Hallie Erminie Rives and Post Wheeler was received with much interest here, where both bride and bridegroom are well known. Mrs. Wheeler is a handsome daughter of Kentucky and cousin of Amelia Rives, author of "The Quick and the Dead." Her father was one of the old Rives family of Virginia. Her great-great-grandfather on her mother's side was Sir John Tillotson, and her mother was the daughter of William Edward Ragsdale, a big slaveholder and tobaccoist. From her mother Miss Rives got her love of horseflesh, which shows up so clearly in her novels. Her mother was a daring rider and stories are still told in the south of her rides upon her great white horse, which was celebrated in two states, when the Yankee held Fort Donelson. Their forgers stole this horse. She rode through the hostile lines, disdaining all challenges, straight to the tent of the commanding officer, demanded the animal back and rode him home in triumph. Miss Rives has been a prolific magazine writer since her fifteenth year.

Post Wheeler also is well known as a magazine writer, though his chief claim to fame is as the author of "Reflections of a Bachelor." He is a native of New York state and a graduate of Princeton. He has been a great traveler and after his graduation from college he spent considerable time among the Tuluah Indians in the Arctic regions, concerning whom he wrote much of interest. Subsequently he resided in London and Paris and for seven years he was the editor of the New York Press.

In Memory of Massachusetts Governor and Men Who Served in War with Spain.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., Dec. 29.—Arrangements have been concluded for interesting exercises next Monday attending the unveiling of a statue erected in the state house in memory of Governor Roger Wolcott. The statue is a bronze figure of the governor sitting in the governor's chair in the council chamber. On his right is a panel showing a Massachusetts soldier in the war with Spain, while a similar panel on the left represents a sailor. The whole is surmounted by the following inscription written by President Eliot of Harvard: "Erected with offerings from thousands of Massachusetts people to express their love and admiration for Governor Wolcott to keep before future generations his high example of civic virtue and to commemorate the men of Massachusetts who served in the war with Spain in 1898." On the base is the inscription: "Roger Wolcott, born July 13, 1837. Died December 21, 1900. Governor of Massachusetts 1897-1898 and 1899."

KIDNAPING CASE IN A NEW LIGHT

DISPATCH FROM CHICAGO REGARDING A POSSIBLE OUTCOME

REPORT SUIT IS STARTED

Sheriff Cochrane Being the Defendant in a $25,000 Damage Suit by Uncle of Boy.

Sequences follow fast and furious in the Arthur Wood disappearance case of Orfordville which was announced in the Gazette a week ago today. A report comes from Chicago this afternoon which throws a new light upon the matter. The following dispatch says:

The Dispatch. Chicago, Ill., Dec. 29. — Richard Harvey of Evanston, arrested for kidnaping Arthur Wood of Orfordville, Wis., sues Sheriff Cochrane of Janesville for twenty-five thousand dollars, alleging false imprisonment. (Signed) YARDS NEWS BUREAU.

Not Known of Here. The starting of this suit is not known of by those interested in the case here. Sheriff Cochrane is out of the city and Attorney John L. Fisher is in Chicago this afternoon for a consultation with Mr. Harvey relative to the possible return of the boy to his adopted father, Mr. Helmboldt. The authenticity of the dispatch is not known and the Gazette prints it for what it is worth.

Boy Missing. It was a week ago today that Mr. Helmboldt, a well to do bachelor of Orfordville, came to Janesville to secure a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Harvey charging him with kidnaping his adopted son Arthur Wood. The warrant was not issued on Saturday but Wednesday when persons who had shadowed the child claimed to have located him in Evanston in Harvey's home. Sheriff Cochrane was then given a warrant in regular form and went to Chicago.

Harvey Arrested. Harvey was arrested in his home in Evanston and was held for a hearing in Evanston on January fifth under two thousand dollars bail, which he furnished. Sheriff Cochrane did not find the boy and Harvey refused to give him up, acting under advice of an attorney.

Later developments demonstrate that Harvey, who has a nice home in Evanston and a good income, came to Rock county to secure the boy, who is his nephew. He consulted several attorneys and finally went to Orfordville accompanied by other cousins of the boy who live in the county. The boy was next seen at the depot, where he took the train and disappeared.

May Be a Bluff. The present suit is possibly a bluff on the part of Harvey to force a settlement of the case without having to be brought back here for trial on the charges. It was intimated to District Attorney Fisher this morning over the long distance telephone that he might make such a settlement should he come to Chicago, and he went by the noon train, expecting to make a settlement with Harvey relative to having the boy returned.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS. Special Mention: Special meeting of the Unique club tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members requested to be present. C. K. Smith, Secy.

Stables Leased: The new hitching stable built by the East Side Business Men's Improvement company was leased today to Fred Mathias who expects to start up business immediately. The stable is on north Bluff street and was built for the benefit of farmers who come into town to trade and with the idea of helping east side business.

False Alarm: An alarm was turned in last evening at eight-thirty at the corner of Jackson street and Oakland avenue in Forest Park. No one, however, was in sight when the department reached the spot. One of the neighbors stated that a strange man was seen getting away from the spot with considerable speed after turning in the alarm. Turning in an alarm in this manner, when there is no cause for it, is punishable by a heavy fine.

To Aid Funds: Attorney Otto A. Oestreich has the kind of friends worth having. He was called to Green Bay yesterday to give his services to a number of personal friends who are about to sue the city of Green Bay. The city is endeavoring to annex the township in which Mr. Oestreich's friends live and they are very much opposed to it for the reason that it would increase their taxes and would be of but little benefit to them. The farmers opposing the plan are personal friends of Mr. Oestreich and when the matter was brought up they immediately secured his services.

To Leave Janesville: Mr. E. Sebbelow, who has been chief agriculturist of the Rock County Sugar Company for the past year, left today for a short visit in Waupaca. Later he will return to Janesville to pack his household goods and move from the city, having severed his connection with the sugar company.

In Bright Red Dress: The aerial ladder truck of the Janesville Fire Department is being painted a bright red with trimmings of black. The work, with the exception of the striping which needs an expert, is being done by the firemen. This is the first time the vehicle has been painted since it was purchased in 1889.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RECEIVES A GIFT

Oil Painting of G. S. Strasburger, Who Was an Early Day Fire Chief.

The Fire Department was recently the recipient of a relic of early days in Janesville. Mrs. Ingersoll, sister of Mrs. E. C. Smith, who died recently, has given to the Fire Department an oil painting of Mr. G. S. Strasburger and the old cap worn by him when he was foreman of the Janesville fire department forty or fifty years ago. Mrs. Smith requested that the picture and the cap be given to the fire department after her death. The picture is an old-fashioned oil painting and has been hung in the west side engine house. The cap is like those worn by the Salvation army, except that it is higher, being about seven inches high and wider at the top. It has "R. R. 1 Foreman," meaning Rock River fire company number 1. Mr. Strasburger was foreman in the old days of volunteer fire and hose companies.

SPARRING MATCHES PROVE ATTRACTIVE

Eagle Athletic Club Have an Excellent Program at Their Hall.

The Eagle Athletic Club were hosts last evening at a very clever entertainment. Three sparring matches were pulled off in which there was some good fast work. The preliminaries were between a Janesville boy and Young Knack of Beaver Dam, and Slawson of Janesville and Bliss of Beloit. Slawson's work was good and fast but he was too light for his opponent and the bout was called a draw.

The closing event was an eight round match between Roy Koumy of Chicago and Procknow of Milwaukee. Procknow was the stronger of the two at the finish but the decision was given to Koumy for his clever work.

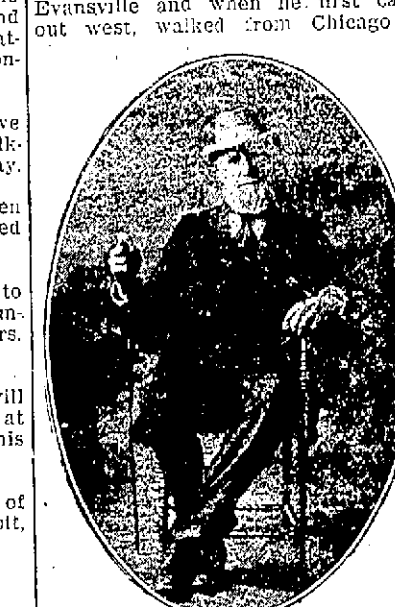

This was, however, reversed by the club members and the bout called a draw. The next program will be given about the middle of January.

ADDICKS' NEWPORT HOME WILL BE SOLD

Belvoir Is Actually to Pass from Possession of Delaware's Former Boss.

Newport, R. I., Dec. 29.—Persons in a position to know are strongly of the opinion that J. Edward Addicks, gas man and senatorial aspirant of Delaware, has qualified for membership in the "down and out club." Whether this is true or not it appears certain that he is to lose Belvoir, his magnificent Newport home, in the same manner that his country estate in Delaware recently passed from his grasp. Belvoir is advertised to be sold at public auction next Monday and announcement is made that the sale will surely be on the square. A few weeks ago, at a mortgage sale, the palatial estate, often sold before but not for "keeps," was sold to the Bear Haven Realty company of Philadelphia, and it was then supposed that Addicks had bought the property in. But a savings bank now announces foreclosure sale and will bid in the property in order to redeem money advanced.

BAILEY SUPPORTERS AT MASS MEETING

Superhuman Efforts Being Made to Retain Texan in United States Senate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Austin, Texas, Dec. 29.—With the near approach of the assembling of the Texas legislature the contest for and against the re-election of Senator Bailey has reached the red-hot stage. Though Senator Bailey declares that his re-election is assured it is not difficult for the unbiased onlooker to see that the opposition is of a most formidable character and that if it continues to gather strength it will be a toss-up whether the senator may not go down to defeat as a result of the exposure of his relations with the Standard Oil financiers. In several parts of the state mass meetings and popular votes are to be taken today to determine whether the people desire their representatives in the legislature to vote for Bailey for re-election. The result of these meetings is awaited with considerable interest as the popular opinion thus expressed will probably have considerable effect on the contest.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

SANTA VISITOR IN WALL STREET TODAY

Employees of America's Leading Financial Concerns Remembered with Large Cash Gifts.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Dec. 29.—Santa Claus paid his customary visit to Wall street at the close of business today. No stockings were overlooked, from managers and confidential men with salaries exceeding that of the President of the United States to youthful clerks and office boys who hope that some day their names may appear in gold letters on pretentious office windows with the words banker and broker underneath. It has been a prosperous year in the financial district and as a consequence liberal largesses were distributed among the employees. In some cases the rewards given today amounted to as much as 50 per cent of the yearly salaries of the employees. But the most of the banks and trust companies distributed bonuses on the following basis: Those in the employ of the institution for ten years or longer, 15 per cent; those employed less than ten years and more than five years, 10 per cent; those employed less than five years and more than one year, 7 per cent. In addition to these percentages some of the big firms, owing to the prosperity of the past year, granted an extra gratuity of 5 per cent to everybody, including new employees. In this manner hundreds of thousands of dollars were distributed to the workers in Wall street today, but in size of bonuses the year did not compare with the Christmas season of 1902, when J. P. Morgan & Co. and Lazard Freres gave to each employee a check for the entire amount of his year's salary, and other houses were almost equally liberal. Without exception all the big banking interests expect 1907 to be one of the most prosperous years in the history of the country.

But Few Wreaths on Grave of "England's Grand Old Man" Though Lesser Men Are Honored.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, Dec. 29.—It is a surprising fact that, though less than a decade has elapsed since he passed from the stage of English public life, the birthday anniversary of William E. Gladstone is allowed to come and go almost unnoticed. But for a few lonely wreaths deposited about the base of the Gladstone monument in front of St. Clement's church there was nothing to recall the fact that today was the anniversary of the birth of him who but a few years ago was honored as "England's Grand Old Man." The observance or lack of observance of Gladstone's memory is in lamentable contrast to the annual celebrations in honor of some whose services to their country were neither so substantial nor so enduring. The only explanation is to be found in the fact that Gladstone's personality was not of that picturesque character to appeal to the imagination of the people, and which has led to the popular celebration of Primrose Day in memory of the late Lord Beaconsfield.

Old Harvard Graduate.
Boston, Mass., Dec. 29.—Israel Munson Spelman, one of the two survivors of the Harvard class of 1826, will celebrate his 90th birthday tomorrow at his home in Cambridge. His solitary associate of the class of 1826 is Samuel G. Ward of Washington, D. C. Mr. Spelman retired from active business many years ago. In his day he was prominent as a financier and during the civil war period he was president of the Boston and Maine railroad.

Ameer's Faith in Ring.
The late ameer of Afghanistan put much faith in a ring. He invariably wore this potent charm against the plotting of his enemies; and although he was more often reported dead than any other monarch of his day, this ring, according to his own belief, enabled him to live a great deal longer than he would have done without it.
